

Sharpmark Labelling Software

With Sharpmark software you can print a wide range of cable and equipment labels using an office laser printer.

Sharpmark Software is convenient and cost effective, there is no need for custom printers to produce professional-looking labels that are durable and easy to read.

Combined with high quality printable labels from Sharpmark, the software allows you to organise and label installations clearly, minimising downtime for regular maintenance or trouble-shooting.

Benefits of Sharpmark Software

- Easy to use and requires no training.
- Pre-loaded with all the Sharpmark label part numbers and standard templates to fit components from many manufacturers. You just select the one you need.

- You can also create your own job from scratch.
- Sharpmark Software creates complex or simple numbering schemes with ease - you just enter the start point and end point of the sequence and the software completes the rest.
- You can use number sequences, alpha sequences, fixed text or a combination of all three.
- There are many layout options for each label.
- You can import data from spread sheets and Word documents as well as graphics.
- Runs under all recent versions of Windows.
- You can import and export your labels for easy transfer between PCs.
- Comes with a multi-user licence and free upgrades.
- Unlimited technical support is available
